

2008 Course information sheet

Guided Walking Holidays and Courses in Scotland from the leading experts
info@scotmountain.co.uk
Tel: 0845 095 6174

MOUNTAIN NAVIGATION WEEKEND 2 days, 2 nights

Of all the skills for the hills, navigation is the most important - no surprise when you consider that up to 80% of mountain rescue call-outs stem from navigational errors. This course provides a firm grounding in the essential skills as well as developing the right tactical approach to good mountain navigation. It's ideal for both those who are starting from scratch, as well as those who have some navigating experience but would like to become more proficient and increase their repertoire of skills.

The variety of terrain found in the Cairngorm Mountains provides an ideal practice ground, from the low level feature packed moorland to the test piece high plateau. This fun course is delivered in a well-structured, progressive manner so you quickly gain in confidence and skill.

STRUCTURE OF THE COURSE

The course involves 2 practical days of detailed map reading followed by the application of techniques to ascertain one's position and route by the 5 main elements of mountain terrain: features, gradient, aspect of slope, distance and direction (compass work).

COURSE CONTENT

Aspects and techniques covered in the course include:

- Feature recognition
- Map interpretation and relating the map to the ground
- Slope and contour feature interpretation
- Navigation with map alone
- Compass bearings

- Time and pace (distance) estimations
- Tactical Navigation techniques incl. aiming off, doglegging, attack points, etc.
- GPS and its appropriate relevance and use in modern Mountain Navigation*

* Clients should provide all their own personal gear. (GPS receivers are not necessary for the course). Please contact us for details.

2008 Dates: Mar 28 - 30; Apr 18 - 20; Oct 24 - 26; Nov 21 - 23

Price: £176 (2 days, 2 nights)

all inclusive of:

accommodation Fri & Sat nights at Fraoch Lodge, Boat of Garten; full board (from Sat breakfast to Sun packed lunch); transport between Fraoch Lodge and the mountains if required; transfers between Aviemore Station/Inverness Airport if required

We advise guests to arrive at Fraoch Lodge between 7 - 9 pm if possible.

If you would like to join us for dinner on Friday night please enquire (2 course evening meal - £10). Additional accommodation may also be available to you for the Sunday night - D,B & B at reduced rate of £26 per person.

Mountain Innovations advises all clients to take out suitable insurance cover. For clients resident in the UK we can offer insurance cover against personal accident, cancellation and lost/stolen baggage. Please phone 01479 831 331 for full details.

* Mountain Innovations Ltd will pick up from Inverness airport at approx. 5pm, unless otherwise arranged.

FITNESS & EXPERIENCE INFORMATION

No previous experience is required other than a good level of fitness to cope with 2 days in the mountains.

It's important for your own and the rest of the group's enjoyment, that you choose the right course for your ability. If you are in any doubt to the suitability of a particular course please don't hesitate to give

Andrew a ring on 01479 831 331 so we can better advise you.

ABOUT US

Established in 1998, we're an owner-run provider of guided walking holidays and mountain courses in the Highlands of Scotland. We firmly believe 'the day' doesn't finish with the walk; we don't hand you over to someone else, you arrive back to 'Cake O'Clock' - a welcoming mug of tea and some of Rebecca's home baking.

Andrew's knowledge of the mountain environment is extensive. Having a background in geology and being interested in natural history and conservation from an early age, he's a mine of information. The fine food and relaxed atmosphere mean that access to some of the wildest places in Britain is a safe, fun and exhilarating experience.

We are always on hand to ensure your stay exceeds expectations and are very proud of all the great testimonials we receive. Come and enjoy an adventure with us.

YOUR HOSTS

Both Andrew and Rebecca have travelled widely. Andrew's mountaineering experience of 15 years is complemented by a number of independent expeditions to such places as the Karakoram mountains of Pakistan, the Indian Himalaya, the Alps, Mount Kenya and the High Atlas of Morocco.

Rebecca has trekked extensively in New Zealand and Australia. She has worked in Taiwan and travelled throughout Asia. She brings her knowledge of global cuisines to the preparation of her highly regarded and creative menus.

FRAOCH LODGE - YOUR ACCOMMODATION

Our Highland base is Fraoch Lodge. The Lodge provides a very comfortable dining room with wood burning stove & a separate lounge with open fire.

Single guests generally share a twin room with a member of the same sex.

If you would prefer single occupancy of a room please enquire for availability (surcharge may apply).

Full details of Fraoch Lodge are available from our web site at www.scotmountain.co.uk

CATERING

Rebecca's meals have been described as 'blue-ribboned events'. Bread is baked daily and all dishes are home-prepared using as much of our organic, home-grown ingredients as possible. There are a variety of options for breakfast. Packed lunches are imaginative but practical. There are home made cakes on our return and the evening meal consists of 2 courses, with the option for seconds, followed by tea or coffee.

We operate a BYO policy for dinner.

RECOMMENDED KIT LIST

- Windproof/Waterproof jacket with hood
- Windproof/Waterproof trousers
- Gaiters (optional)
- Proper Walking boots (walking shoes & sneakers/approach shoes are not appropriate) Please bear in mind that at times, you may have to cross soft boggy ground or streams, so it's therefore essential that your footwear comes high enough up the ankle if you are to avoid wet feet. Walking boots also help to support the ankle on rough terrain. If you are planning to purchase walking boots we would recommend you go to a retailer whose staff have specifically been trained to fit outdoor footwear.

- Walking socks
- Walking poles (optional)
- Ruck Sack (30 litre plus capacity if on residential holiday or course)
- Warm clothing - (e.g. fleece or 2 x thin wool jumpers)
- Warm Hat - bring one you may well need it
- Gloves - bring a pair you may well need them if you are climbing mountains
- Walking Trousers (not jeans)
- Sun block
- Sun glasses (optional)
- Water bottle/flask
- Towel
- Digital stop watch (if on navigation course)
- Slippers/indoor shoes
- Outdoor shoes for bus, etc
- Thermal underwear top or warm shirt (preferably not cotton)
- Shorts and T-shirt (optional)
- Compass: Silva Expedition 4 preferred using degrees & not military mills, etc (required if on course)
- Map: O.S. 1:50000 preferred (Sheet 36: Grantown & the Cairngorms) - required if on course
- Waterproof map case (required if on course). Ortleib A5 document wallet preferred though does tend to restrict use to 1:50 000 scale. If you would like further advice please phone.

Clients are advised to avoid wearing clothing made out of 100% cotton for mountaineering since cotton loses a lot of its thermal potential when wet. It is far more versatile to opt for a number of thin layers, as opposed to a couple of thick layers with regards to warm clothing.

If you have any doubts on the suitability of your kit please don't hesitate to contact us: 01479 831 331.

OUR RESPONSIBLE POLICY

On all our holidays we have a 'leave nothing, take only photographs' policy. Our guides are asked to explain and encourage this policy. For example, leaving an apple core or feeding a seagull on a mountain summit may seem innocuous but it detracts from the 'untouched wilderness' aspect and can have a detrimental knock-on effect on the indigenous wildlife. Our guides are there your safety & enjoyment & to informally share their knowledge of the mountain environment - from its geological beginnings through to contemporary land management and its associated politics.

We compost all biodegradable waste in 3 large compost heaps built from scrap wood and use this to fertilise the garden, especially our vegetable patch.

The lodge is mainly heated by a multi-fuel stove which is supplied by wood from the garden, deadfall in the local woods and cutoffs (a waste product) from the sawmill at Carrbridge

We have been awarded Silver in the Green Tourism Business Award Scheme.

TRAVEL TO THE HIGHLANDS

If you are intending to fly you can find all options on the Inverness airport web site at www.hial.co.uk Alternatively you could take the train to Aviemore. Direct services run from London with GNER & Scotrail (the sleeper).

